

Find the best leaders for your organisation

Jobs at board level entail a major risk for organisations as these carry the responsibility for following the strategic course and form the foundation for inspiring and motivating employees. This is the reason why it is so important to select the right person for the job. Not only in terms of knowledge and experience, but above all in terms of the person and the natural competencies required to be successful.

The process

Before we start with the job opening, we will first talk to you and the internal organisation, using ACT® to clarify what type of person you are looking for, apart from the required knowledge and experience. Based on the information gained, we will draft a profile for the candidate. We will be responsible for recruitment and a thorough selection based on content.

We will be your adviser throughout the process, focusing on the following aspects during the selection process:

- The human being by means of ACT® and HBM Assessment (cognition).
- Knowledge and experience.

Both will be linked to the organisation and the goals set for the position.

Result

Based on this selection, a long-term relationship will be created between candidate and organisation, in which the selected candidate can be successful in terms of achieving the organisation's objectives.

In short: based on cognition and the human being towards successful recruitment and selection.
